Video Vistas Crack

Your browser window is no longer tied up while you are watching video. You can search for more videos or surf the web at the same time video is playing. As you know, the standard video players on all websites will force you to remain on that webpage until the video is finished. We want to be the tool that you use when you're watching video online with Internet Explorer or Firefox. We've included familiar buttons and controls for simultaneous web surfing and a toggle system that lets you instantly move back and forth between your default browser and our video layer with one click. Video Vistas is the perfect browser plugin to watch videos on the Internet. It's actually built into your browser and allows you to stream web videos instantly. It does this by using the Windows Media Player ActiveX control (WMPActiveX.dll) and a proxy server. Video Vistas lets you watch your favorite web videos without leaving your web page. As you start watching a video it automatically switches your web browser to a custom designed page that shows the video player and your web browser side by side. When you close the video page you automatically return to your web browser. If you wish to you can watch a video and search for more video at the same time. Video Vistas is a free video player for Internet Explorer and Firefox. It is not an actual video player. Video Vistas simply runs and plays WMPActiveX.dll (which you probably have installed) and it's required so that the browser control works. The player is hosted and hosted by Video Vistas. For this reason we say that Video Vistas is an adware or potentially adware. Video Vistas works with any web player or browser. It's designed to work with video's on most websites.
