
Neufert Architects Data 4th Edition Torrent

Neufert's Architects' data is an essential reference for initial design and construction project planning. It contains in one brief volume... In the early 1950s, the architect Carl Diedrich compiled a list of recommendations based on his research on how to avoid repeating mistakes. These errors have been found in various projects, including a church in Aberdeen and a museum building in Belfast. The recommendations were based on an analysis of the mistakes that have been made in design and construction throughout almost the entire history of architecture. The book deals with errors such as:
